His Pa Goes Calling.

Signor! I wasn't afraid, no more.

I hugged a girl so hard she caught her breath and panted and said, O doubt. Then I kissed her, and she didn't care. Say, did you ever kiss a girl full of signor? If you didn't it would break up your grocery business.

You would want to be water in his kind of a soaking machine. My chum won't no more either.

I was sitting in a stuffy chair holding another new year's girl, and I could hear him hiss her so it sounded like a runner scurrying on bare ground.

But the girl's pa came in and said he wasn't afraid to go to the place where they had a license for an all night house, and me and my chum went out. But wasn't we scared when we got out doors. O, it seemed as though the pegs in my boots were the only thing that kept them down, and my chum he like to die. He had only been skating all day, so he had more to contend with than I did. O, my but that let me out on signor.

I don't know how I got home, but I got in bed with my pa, because my chum was called away on one of her professional engagements. I had heard blame me about her going, but I wasn't a piece of the signor, so I didn't go. I was just like a big rain cloud just exactly like the signor

and I didn't like to go. I was just like a big rain cloud just exactly like the signor and I didn't like to go. I was just like a big

rain cloud just exactly like the signor

and I didn't like to go. I was

But in titanic Social

Items—The Cold

Spell.

BY CAMILLE.

On last Sunday night Rev. J. W.

Bigham commenced a protracted meeting at the Methodist church of this place. He was yet to be seen but he is full of zeal and has endured in his present work with an earnestness and determination that will doubtless win for him much success.

Up to this writing no accessions have been made to the church.

CHAS. M. MEACHAM, Editor.

HOPKINSVILLE, JAN. 23, 1883.

We are authorized to announce that Prof. H. B. Wayland, of Cadiz, as a candidate for County Judge of Trigg county. Election August 1883.

We are authorized to announce that Capt. Ralph Sheldon, of Nelson county, is a candidate for re-election as Register of the Land Office, subject to the action of the Democratic party. Election August 1883.

An experiment of talking 400 miles by telephone was successful in New York last week.

The Legislatures of Michigan, Minnesota, Nebraska and Colorado have been at a deadlock for a week.

An exchange says Mrs. Theodore Tilton has been compelled by poverty to serve as nurse of a sick lady in New York.

The Tennessee Legislature has taken the lead in tariff reform by adopting a resolution favoring "tariff for revenue only."

Schiller, the bar keeper of the Newhall House, lately burned at Milwaukee, has been arrested and is charged with setting fire to the hotel.

Dorsey's resignation as Secretary of the National Republican Committee has been accepted and Col. Martin, of Kansas, elected as his successor.

The Quincy House, of Quincy, Ill., was burned last Friday. No loss of life, but the property destroyed, was valued at $300,000, with but little insurance.

Tom L. Cannon, the sprightly young editor of the State Sentinel, is out as a candidate for legislative honors in Henderson county. We would like to see him elected.

Representative Goddes, of Ohio, has introduced a bill to allow newspapers to be sent free through the mails to actual subscribers. The postage is now two cents per pound.

Atha Thomas, of Williamson county, has been elected by the Legislature of Tennessee to fill the vacancy in the State Treasury's office caused by the absence of Col. M. T. Polk.

Gov. Pattison, of Pennsylvania, is 31 years old, 32 Cleveland, of New York, is 32 and Senator elect Kenna, of West Virginia, is 34. The young men of the country are coming to the front.

The Crown Prince and Princess of Germany requested that intended to give presents on the occasion of their silver wedding to contribute the money for the benefit of the sufferers from the inundations.

At Berescheff, in Russian Poland, a theatre took fire during a circus performance, on the 13th inst., and 300 persons perished in the flames. An argument for those who think it is wrong to patronize circuses.

A New York man named Walcott who undertook to eat two quails a day for thirty consecutive days was beginning to weaken on the eleventh day, which was last Thursday. No reports have been received since.

We are in receipt of the annual report of the Feeble Minded Institute at Frankfort. 149 children were cured for during the year and 6 were dismissed or died. The Institute is under the care of Dr. J. Q. A. Stewart.

Jno. M. Hamilton, Lieutenant-Governor of Illinois, who will be Governor when Gov. Cullom takes his seat in the Senate in March, is only 35 years old and will be the youngest executive the State has ever had.

The civil service bill has been signed by the President and is now a law. It provides that no government employee shall be removed for political reasons, so long as he discharges the duties of his office faithfully.

Prince Jerome Bonaparte issued a manifesto in Paris last week in favor of himself which created intense excitement. Bonaparte was arrested and several of his friends will probably be banished from France for aiding him.

The Second Congressional district will be entitled to 64 votes in the State convention, divided as follows: Christian, 2; Hopkins, 7; Davies, 13; McLean, 4; Hancock, 3; Webster, 5; Henderson, 11; Union, 10.

Mr. C. C. Givens, who published the Sobresunbeam for a year, has become local editor of the State Sentinel, at Henderson. He is a young man of talent and fitness for journalistic work and we welcome him cordially into the ranks of the quill driving fraternity.

John F. Porter, known in history as "Bowie Knife" Porter, is living on a farm in Waukesha county, Wisconsin, and is now 63 years old. In 1860, while a member of Congress, he accepted a challenge from Gen. Roger A. Pryor, of Virginia, and used bowie-knives, at four feet, as the weapons. Pryor refused to fight with bowie-knives and Porter was arrested and bound over to keep the peace.

The Convention.

The Covington Commonwealth, with its characteristic perverseness, says the convention was called in May by the partisans of Mr. Knott in opposition to the interests of every other candidate for the nomination for Governor. Our contemporary is inconsistent. It is generally the staunch advocate of fair play and upright motives in politics. Mr. Knott is at his post of duty in Washington, and to hold a convention in February, is some of Col. Jones' friends favored, would have been to take an unfair and unmanly advantage, which an advocate of fair play ought to scorn to take. Col. Jones has been a candidate for Governor for years, and during the last five years he has probably canvassed every part of the State. Mr. Knott was called out by the voice of the people a few months ago. He threw his energies into the late Congressional campaign, doing valiant service in the close districts, and he has canvassed but little of the territory of the State. His term in Congress does not expire until March 4th, and he will then have a little over two months to canvass 117 counties. It was nothing but right that he should have been given a little time, and the very fact that Col. Jones' followers are dissatisfied, shows that they are not disposed to be actuated by a spirit of fairness. It would have been commendable in Col. Jones if he had come forward and added to the committee "I do not desire to take advantage of an absent competitor, who is discharging his duty elsewhere, and, while I desire an early convention, in justice to Mr. Knott let it be held at the time his friends think best." He did not do this, but we find him in Louisville on the day it was called, sore and disappointed at the result, and his organ at Covington grumbling and charging that Col. Jones has not been treated fairly. The Commonwealth is mistaken when it says the date chosen was "adverse to the interests of every other candidate." Judge Owsley's friends, disposed to do the fair thing, co-operated with Mr. Knott and voted for a late convention, and the truth of the whole business is, that only two votes were cast against the date settled upon. We know not what effect this action of Owsley's friends produced in other sections of the State, but the effect here will likely be that he will be given second instructions in Christian, a strong Knott county. Our Covington contemporary will do Col. Jones harm by such arguments as it adduces in this instance, and if Col. Jones ever expects to re-elected Governor, we must suggest that his friends muzzle him and advise him to muzzle his friends.

AND SO FORTH.

All this talk about an earthquake last week is positively shocking. During her first week in Chicago, Mrs. Langtry took in $11,500 and Freddy Gebhardt.

Jerome's friends have Bonaparte of the blame for issuing the manifesto in behalf of the Prince.

Is there no way to force Gov. Blackburn to publish a complete list of the "Colonels on his staff?"

W. H. Vanderbilt and the writer are together worth $260,000,000. Mr. Vanderbilt owns most of the sum.

The Marquis of Lorne would not suffer himself to be interviewed at Louisville, and wouldn't even see the "horrid reporters."

All subscriptions sent to the SOUTH KENTUCKIAN must be accompanied by $1.50, not necessarily for publication, but as an evidence of good faith.

Col. Cunningham, a St. Louis reporter, challenged Gebhardt to fight a duel and Padman, of the Courier-Journal, thinks he should have challenged him to a spelling match.

The Evansville Journal says there were 262 failures in the United States last week. As Tom Cannon failed in an attempt to get off a joke on us, the number of failures may be increased to 263.

The Sunday Argus is running its jokes into the ground when it says, "The deepest coal mine in America is said to be at Pottsville, Pa. Happy thought: The Republican party can use it for a house of refuge in 1884."

When a lover reaches the interrogation point, his sweetheart usually answers with an exclamation—Breckenridge News.

Some times she answers with a period and tells him he needs't color her again.

The wife of Dr. Tanner, the fastidious and obtained a divorce because her husband wanted to experiment upon her and see what effect a turpentine would have on her. It caused something to "turn up," as Mr. Micawber would say.

The Courier-Journal has published the pictures of the "Great Statesmen," the "Great Capitalists," the "Great Actors," the "Great Authors," and the "Great Preachers." When it gets ready for the "Great Liars" we would like to make some nominations.

Cope Snapp, another of the Louisville defaulting officials has been taken in out of the wintry weather. He thought he had a soft Snapp but he found he was not able to cope successfully with the law and so confessed that he got $10,000 as his share.

Cecil Edwards Cantrill, infant son of Lieut. Gov. James E. Cantrill, was yesterday commissioned by Governor L. P. Blackburn a Colonel on his staff—Yeoman.

NEW SENATORS.

The Kansas Republicans have re-elected Senator Plumb.

The Democrats of Delaware have re-elected Senator Saulsbury.

The Democrats of North Carolina have re-elected Senator Ransom.

Hon. W. P. Frye, Rep., has been re-elected to the Senate from Maine.

Gov. Shelby M. Cullom, Rep., has been elected to succeed David Davis as United States Senator from Illinois.

Congressman John E. Keana has been elected by the West Virginia Democrats to the Senate of the United States.

Hon. A. H. Garland, Dem., has been re-elected to the Senate from Arkansas. His election was almost unanimous.

Hon. Isham G. Harris, Dem., was re-elected as his own successor in the U. S. Senate, by the Legislature of Tennessee, on the first ballot, last week.

Geo. F. Hoar, Rep., has been re-elected as U. S. Senator from Massachusetts. It is said that his election was brought about by the forgery of Congressman Crapo's name to a dispatch telling his followers to vote for Hoar.

Dr. Mudd, who set Booth's leg the night he assassinated President Lincoln and who was sent to prison for life as a conspirator, but subsequently pardoned, died in Charles county, Maryland, a few days since. He was the last survivor of those convicted for complicity in the assassination conspiracy.

Gebhardt, Mrs. Langtry's mash, who is following her over the country, cursed a St. Louis reporter for publishing a diagram of their respective rooms in the hotel and was in turn challenged by the journalist. The duel would have been fought but Lily made Freddy promise to ignore the challenge for her sake.

The State Journal, published at Col. Jones' home, is mad because the State Convention was not called for Feb. 22 and held before Mr. Knott returned from Washington. The reason given is that the farmers can't attend in May. No farmer who can't afford to pay a hand three or four dollars a week, to take his place while he goes to Louisville to help nominate Knott, is likely to be appointed a delegate.

The Marquis of Lorne, Queen Victoria's son-in-law and his wife the Princess Louise were in Kentucky last week. They passed through the blue grass region on their way to Richmond, Va. It is said that while they were in Richmond the Princess wanted to take a bath and though the bath-tub was nice and clean she wouldn't bathe in it because it was not a new one and a new one had to be used.

Garland Luby dropped dead at Owensboro.

There are 17 paupers in the Trigg county poor house.

The Sentinel wants a military company organized at Henderson.

John Roller was killed by two negroes in Grant county.

The Sandusky House at Central City was destroyed by fire a few days since. The loss was several thousand dollars.

Only five prisoners in the Frankfort jail.

NATIONAL NOTES.

Gov. Bates, of Tennessee, was inaugurated on the 15th.

Cincinnati is arranging for a centennial exposition in 1888.

Cisco, Tex., was almost entirely destroyed by fire last week.

Jos. Meadows, a farmer, dropped dead at Olney, Ill.

Thirty-three doctors are members of the Tennessee Legislature.

W. T. Graham, a farmer, blew out his brains at Scottsboro, Ala.

Frank Hunsinger was killed by a falling flat, at Fremont, O.

Nickolas Felix, starved himself to death in a Pittsburgh poor house.

Wm. Grayham, of Larkinsville, Ala., blew out his brains with a pistol.

Robt. Hoffman aged 22, was fatally shot by his father, at Cincinnati.

Chas. Shaw, a colored murderer, was hanged at Washington, Friday.

John McCabe was shot and killed by Tom Mathie, near Huntsville, Ala.

A negro child was born near Athens, Ga., with a full set of teeth.
